

Seeing is Believing

“He hit me where my bruises couldn’t be seen, and then laughed at my pain”

The LENS Project has been developed to enable victims to have their injuries documented and kept in a secure place

This scheme offers victims:

- Copies of their photo(s) to take away with no pressure to take further action
- Secure storage of photographic evidence for up to 10 years
- Information and sources of other support

Photos can be used as supporting evidence in court at any time.

They can also increase the chances of a successful prosecution and obtain injunctions.

The Domestic Violence Integrated Response project can help you document the evidence.
